I'll never forget the night before Brooklyn was born: I was sleeping in a field with just a sleeping bag, as it sprinkled. I went into labor the next morning. I had no idea where I was taking this beautiful baby when I left the hospital. I was in full panic mode leaving the hospital in a cab to go nowhere, when I got the call that PVSS had a room available. Because of PVSS, my daughter has never spent one day of her life homeless. We now live in transitional housing.

I work two jobs: one I’ve had for over two years and the other is an amazing opportunity, doing sales and administration work for a successful business. I am also now enrolled in a couple of online courses for the job. After nine years of not having a driver's license, not only do I have a license but I have been able to buy a car.

I have paid off my student loans. I have savings and I never worry about how I will make ends meet, because I have a consistent monthly budget. After 8 years of being told by so many that this was impossible, my oldest daughter has been living with me for a year and my son just spent this past summer with us. I am truly grateful for this once in a lifetime chance and am confident that my future will continue to get better.

- Kristan, PVSS Transitional Housing Client
Greetings, new friends and supporters!

I’m delighted to join the wonderful team at PVSS! I am about two months into my role as Executive Director and I feel like I am exactly where I should be. I moved to Santa Cruz from Sonoma County to embrace this opportunity for two reasons: first, I wanted to dedicate my life to an organization that still believes that we need to provide families with much more than just a roof over their heads; second, I discovered astonishing things about PVSS when I researched the organization.

I discovered that, with a budget of less than a million dollars, we work with close to two hundred homeless children and adults each year in twenty-two units and a hundred and thirty six beds of shelter, transitional and permanent housing – and that eighty-two percent of families are graduating into stable housing! Perhaps most surprising to learn was that thirty-eight families had purchased their own homes upon graduating from PVSS! To me, that was the clincher and really showed the power of the organization’s approach to helping families to become self-sufficient and thrive – not just survive – under a roof of their own.

There are still a huge number of families that need our help in the Pajaro Valley. Our highest expression of love and compassion for them is our relentless pursuit of better housing outcomes. I look forward to working with you and helping PVSS to become an even more effective provider of transformative programs and services. Together, we can create a future where all families have safe, secure housing and bright, self-sufficient futures!

Mike joins PVSS from Sonoma County. He brings 19 years of experience at COTS, the second largest homeless service provider in Sonoma County, culminating in 5 years as CEO of the organization.

“I am here dedicating my life to this work and PVSS, because it’s doing for families what we all want for our own families. Because we care deeply about children and their parents, we are committed to providing much more than just a roof over their heads. We want them to leave our programs equipped to thrive, not just survive, under a roof of their own!”

Judy was born and raised in Watsonville. She rejoins PVSS after working as the Mother’s Day Run & Walk Race Director for the past 4 years. She brings experience in event coordination and fundraising campaign management.

“I’ve known about PVSS for many years, having run years ago in several Mother’s Day Runs. However, I hadn’t realized, until more recently, that PVSS’ amazing programs provide not only shelter, but also paths to self-empowerment & self-sufficiency for their clients.”

Jamie was raised in Santa Cruz County and witnessed the need for affordable housing. She rejoins PVSS after serving in different temporary roles, from an office assistant in 2015 to interim property manager in 2017, 2018, and early 2019.

“I have always had a strong desire to help people in need, so when the opportunity to join PVSS’ staff arrived, I was thrilled. I am proud to be part of an agency that truly makes a difference in clients’ lives. I am inspired by the quote ‘Treat others the same way you want them to treat you’ (Luke 6:31, NASB).”

Elizabeth is an AmeriCorps Volunteer from Southern California. She brings a background in sociology and passion in assisting underserved families.

"Growing up, I wanted to help and empower underserved families and children. I chose to serve in Watsonville at PVSS because the organization is unique and dedicated to its mission, vision, and values. PVSS provides an opportunity for families, no matter their circumstances, to find the resources and assistance they need, achieve emotional well being, and learn new skills, so they can graduate into a safe, secure, and stable home."

Elizabeth was born in Hollister and raised in Watsonville. She became homeless in 2017. She is a thriving PVSS alumna, having participated and saved in Transitional Housing.

"I bettered myself and my family through the experience at PVSS, and as a result, it became a life changing experience. Working at PVSS gives you a feeling of success and peace of mind, which is a direct result of self-satisfaction in knowing you did your best in helping others in need, giving back what is freely given to you by always being of service. Thank you for the opportunity to give back.”

Margarita has been a lifelong resident of Santa Cruz County. She has been a victim of homelessness and lack of affordable housing. She is a thriving PVSS alumna.

"I have benefited greatly from PVSS’ positive influence and support, helping me grow and get my life on the right track, leading to a new job and home of my own. Through the extended opportunities given by working with PVSS, I have the chance to pay my good fortune forward by working with others who are willing and able to make real, long lasting positive changes in their lives."
